Problem Statement & Objectives

I

The project came into consideration in a thought to maintain the actions and maintenance of the pets people like to nurture in their houses. In order to maintain their training, food supply, and each thing that a pet needs for his daily routine.

Objectives

To provide facility to pets and their owners about their pets

To provide updations of new product launch in market

To recommend people how to train your pets and handle them

Introduction

I
This system is used to update the owner in a way that they can know what their pets want about their habitual surroundings, their grooming's, their trainings and at last their affection and loyalty.

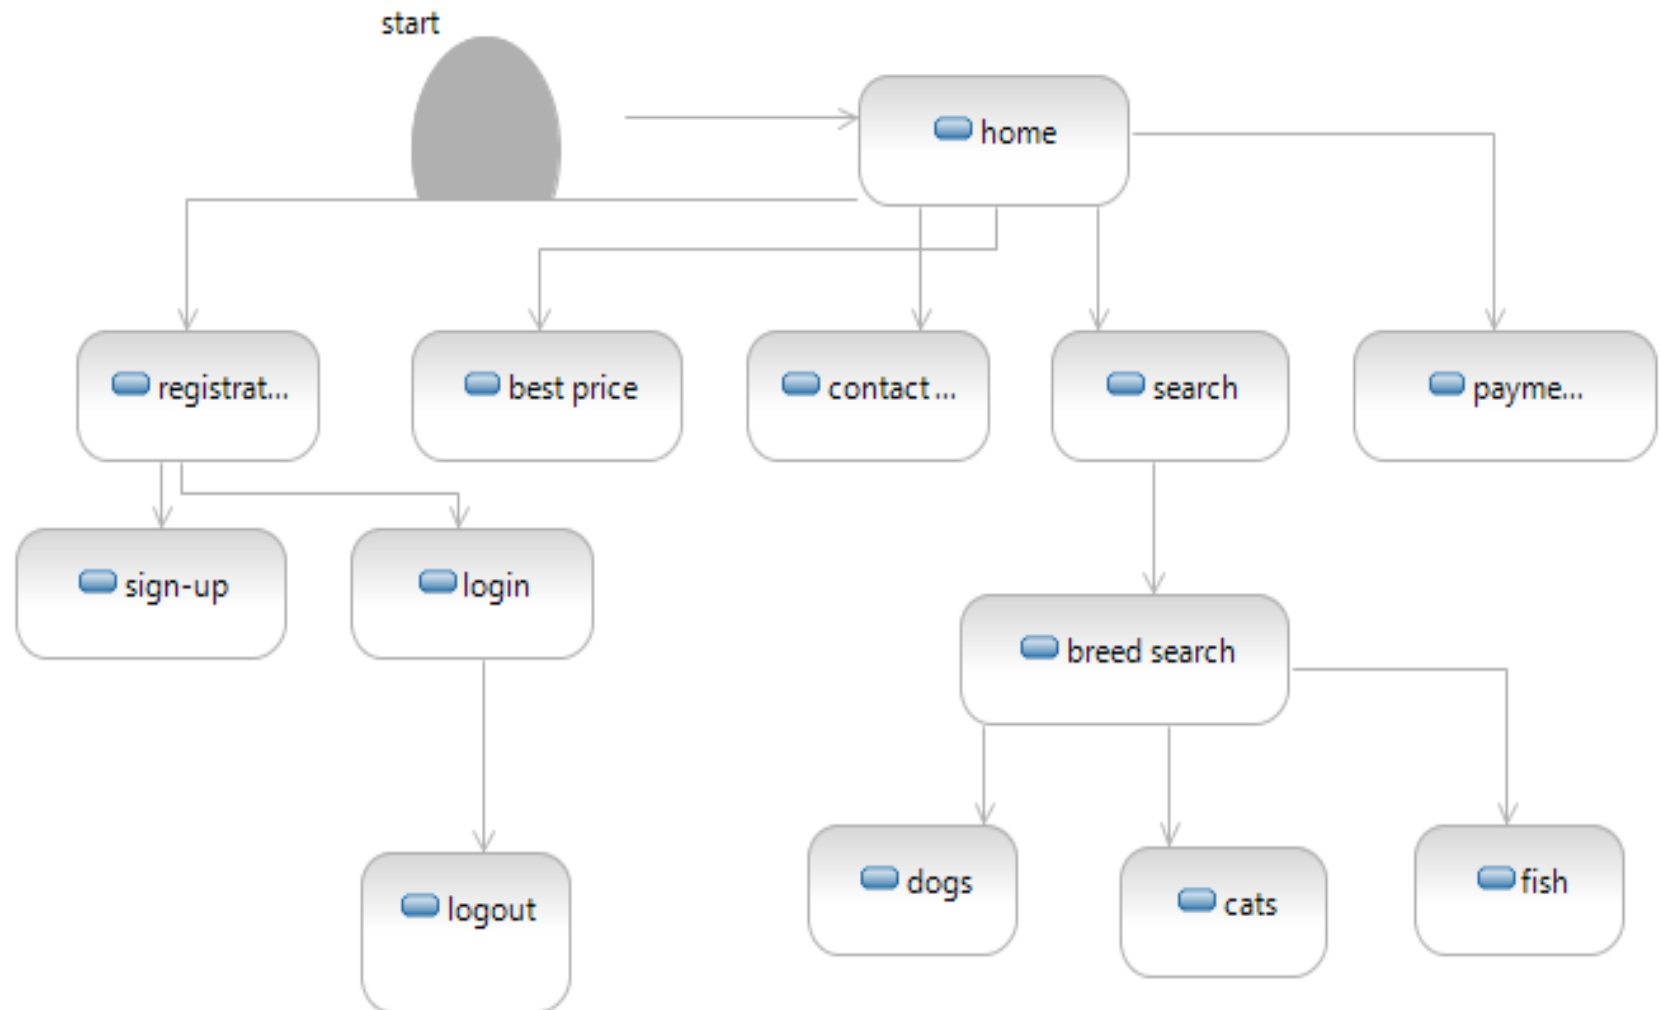

This system can provide hostel facility to the pets on various places and also to the remote areas where the trainers are available

System can provide them information of Good food, best quality of product for them whenever and wherever it is possible for them
